

NEW YORK

MARCH 12-19, 2007

Barbecue
Cheap Haircut
Martini
Tailor
Hardware Store
Tide Guy
French Fries
SPECIAL DOUBLE ISSUE
Vacuumator
Dry Cleaner
Milkshake
Lunchtime Gym
Eyeglasses
Kids' Bookstore
Dive Bar
Pit Boarder
Cheese Shop
Busing Teacher
Roller Coaster
Apartment Detonifier
Sweater Joint
Multiplex Screen
Burger (High & Low)
Fashion-y Men's Boutique
Wine Store
Coed Steam Room
Non-Trendy Jeans
Dim Sum
Starter Sofa
Bread
Swimming Pool
Tattoo Removal
Bagel Shop
First-Day Itinerary
Nearby Ski Resort
Menthol
Body Wax
Golf Course
Lunch
Bedding
Artsy Brunch
Scotch Bar
Zoo Animal
Summer Dress
Window Shade
Gay Bar
Pet Supplies
Espresso
One-Night-Stay Hotel
Pedicure
Big-Screen-TV Installer
Gelato
Toy Store
Computer Doctor
Eco-Design Shop
Bloody Mary
Impromptu Dance Party
Cobbler
Foreign-Beer Pub
Wedding Gift
Declutterer
Bathing Suit
Chinese Lesson
Thrift Shop
Cevlar
And more.

Best

NEW YORK

MARCH 12-19, 2007

of

New

York

'07

Milkshake

BRGR

287 Seventh Ave., nr. 26th St.
212-488-7500

With fancy burger joints proliferating around town, shakes have followed suit, and though we're reluctant to muck around with soda-fountain tradition, we've got to recognize the genius of brgr's quirky blueberry-pomegranate concoction. To be honest, in a world of thin, insipid shakes and malteds, this one might win for sheer cheek-muscle-toning texture alone. But we commend brgr's support of local agriculture in its use of rich, delicious vanilla ice cream and milk from Ronnybrook Farm Dairy in the Hudson Valley, which also supplies the tart and tangy fruit purée. Between the color and the thickness, it's hard to finish one without identifying with the tragically bloated Violet Beauregarde. If she'd been to brgr, she wouldn't have needed the gum.

WWW.NYMAG.COM